1

On your Desktop, create a folder named stooges

In that folder, create a sub-folder named images

Into the images folder, place the 4 images
downloaded & unzipped from here:

[files.granneman.com/webdev/project/
stooges/images/stooges.zip](http://files.granneman.com/webdev/project/stooges/images/stooges.zip)

2

In the main stooges folder, create a file named `index.htm`

3

This file should use the HTML5 DTD

In `index.htm`, place the following content:

- » A title of `3 Stooges & Friends`
- » A page title (`#1`) of Stooges
- » All 4 pictures of the Stooges, with each picture a clickable link to that particular stooge's page
- » An `HR`, followed by `© [Year] [Your name]`, with your name a hyperlink to your email address

Create 4 more pages in the `stooges` folder:

4

- » `larry.htm`
- » `moe.htm`
- » `curly.htm`
- » `shemp.htm`

5

On each of those pages (which should also use the HTML5 DTD), place the following content:

- » A title of 3 Stooges & Friends: [Name of Stooge]
 - » A small wayfinding menu that says Home > [Name of Stooge], with Home linked back to the home page
 - » A page title (#1) of [Name of Stooge]
- » A centered picture of the appropriate named stooge
at the top of the page,
with his catch-phrase (figure it out!) as a caption

- » A sub-title (H2) of Visit the Other Stooges!
 - » Pictures of the other 3 stooges, with each picture a clickable link to that particular stooge's page
 - » An HR, followed by © [Year] [Your name], with your name a hyperlink to your email address

At this point,
I should be able to click on each stooge & go from page to page to page to page, in a closed loop
of eye-pokes, face-slaps, & hair-pulls

Thank you!
